DETAILED ACTION

This office action was made in response to an amendment filed by Applicant on 7/14/2008.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-11 and 16-28 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-6 of U.S. Patent No. 7,213,834. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the current application and the above specified patent, having the same assignee, claim a knee protecting airbag having a non-inflatable support directly attached to an upper portion of the airbag that extends upon deployment of the airbag and covers an instrument panel of a vehicle, wherein the support has an occupant side portion and an instrument panel side portion that are temporarily attached to each other and that are detached from one another upon deployment of the airbag.

3. Claims 1,2,4, and 16 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-6 of U.S. Patent No. 7,226,075. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the current application and the above specified patent, having the same assignee, claim a knee protecting airbag having a non-inflatable support directly attached to an upper portion of the airbag that extends with the airbag upon deployment of the airbag and covers an instrument panel of a vehicle.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saslekov (6,092,836). Saslekov discloses a knee airbag device comprising an airbag; an inflator 18; and a non-inflatable airbag support 21 that extends upon deployment of the airbag so as to cover the instrument panel. With regard to the airbag support being attached to the airbag, both the support 21 and the airbag are attached the a door 5' of a glove compartment of the vehicle and are thus attached to each other, though not directly, through their respective attachments to the door 5'.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claim 15 is allowed.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-11 and 16-28 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. With regard to the rejection of claim 1 using the Saslecov reference, without the limitation of the support being directly attached to the airbag, Examiner maintains the rejection.
